From Energy to Automotive Industries: Building a Green Workforce

Thu, April 13, 2017 5:30 PM – 7:30 PM PDT

DESCRIPTION

As many Americans watch in anticipation for signs of the labor market to open and more manufacturing jobs to come online under the promise of the new administration, it is a timely conversation to discuss the Bay Area's role in evolving the nation's workforce. In YPE's speaker series, policy and industry leaders will discuss the opportunities and challenges the new clean economy faces, what strategic policies will breathe new life into atrophied markets, and how to preserve high-tech manufacturing labor.

MODERATOR

- Katie Fehrenbacher, Greentech Media Contributing Reporter // @katiefehren

SPEAKERS

- Jennifer Granholm, former two-term Governor of Michigan & Adjunct Professor at UC Berkeley // @JenGranholm
- Tom Wener, SunPower Chief Executive Officer // @SunPower

- Josh Ensign, Proterra Chief Operating Officer // @Proterra_Inc

Connect with the SF Green Business Community at the Sustainability Unconference: Two Upcoming Events!

An unconference uses open space technology as the participants crowdsource an agenda driven by attendees and selected by vote. Learn great skills from your peers working in the sustainable business community through speaking sessions, workshops, and general discussion topic sessions (click here to check out the topics that were chosen for our January event). Both events include ample time for engaging group discussions and structured networking, as well as the opportunity to indulge in organic food and drinks. This is a great way to learn from your peers, grow a greener business and build a stronger, more sustainable community.

There are two upcoming events, a Mini Unconference and a full-day Sustainability Unconference.

Mini Sustainability Unconference: Monday, April 17 5:30pm - 8:30pm

Sustainability Unconference: Saturday, May 6 9:30am - 4:30pm

The events are hosted by Important Media, publisher of CleanTechnica and 20 other sustainability news sites. Click the links below to learn more:
